I have the honor to inform you that the Accountant General some time since requested that, if possible, arrangements might be made for a Government vessel being made available to convey small coins to the different maritime districts on this side of the Peninsula and to bring back surplus treasure to the Presidency. The "Governor Higginson" has already left for this purpose to bring up treasure from the South, and, with the permission of Government, she will be dispatched on a similar errand to the North as far as Monsoorcottah soon after she returns.

2. Opportunity will be taken at the same time of moving troops and stores up and down the coast.
