Proceedings of the Madras Government, Marine Department,
11th December 1861.

No. 29. Read the following letter from J. J. FRANKLIN, Esq., Superintendent of Marine; to T. PYCROFT, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Marine Department, Fort Saint George, dated 3rd December 1861, No. 3,349.

I have the honor to forward the accompanying twelve bills for expenses incurred in the Marine Department which the Officiating Civil Paymaster has objected to admit, on the grounds of their not being included in the Marine Budget Estimate for 1861-62. They have, however, been inserted in the Supplemental Estimate, and as they are charges which it was indispensably necessary to incur, I have to solicit that I may be furnished with a Treasury Order for the aggregate amount.

2. I would likewise beg here to point out the great inconvenience that occurs, and the additional labor that is imposed, by the refusal to audit charges of this nature although inserted in the Supplemental Budget. When the original Budget was submitted, its scope was not exactly comprehended, and moreover, in common I believe with most Departments, several omissions were made. These were rectified in the second estimate, and I would suggest, as these and other similar bills represent actual cash payments for the performance of labor without which the public service could not be carried on, that the Civil Paymaster be instructed in anticipation of the sanction of the Supreme Government to the Supplemental Marine Budget, to admit charges therein estimated for.

No. 30. ORDER THEREON, 11th December 1861, No. 414.

In the Order of the 18th September last, No. 393, the Superintendent of Marine was instructed to Apply to Government for a Treasury Order to obtain an advance for payment of such charges as might be refused audit for reasons connected with the Budget.

2. Mr. Franklin now suggests that the Civil Paymaster should be directed to admit charges entered in the Supplemental Estimate of the Marine Department, in anticipation of the sanction of the Government of India.

3. A similar suggestion was made by the Inspector General of Jails, and the Civil Paymaster was asked whether the charges referred to, could be so audited and passed, for the present, against the unexhausted portion of the sanctioned Budget under the same head. If such a course were practicable, the regular monthly audit could be carried on without interruption, and payments of advances from a suspense account at the same time avoided.

Proceedings 22nd August 1861, No. 1,958, Judicial.

4. The Civil Paymaster stated in reply that he was prepared, under the authority of Government, pending the sanction of the Supplemental Budget, to pass the charges in question against the unexhausted portion under the same head of the Budget grant.

Mr. Raynor's letter in Proceedings 25th October 1861, No. 1,301, Judicial.

5. There thus seems to be no objection to carrying out Mr. Franklin's suggestion. The Government resolve accordingly to authorize the Civil Paymaster to audit expenses incurred or admitted by the Superintendent of Marine, provided they are entered in the Supplemental Estimate—the audits being for the present, passed against the unexhausted portion of the sanctioned Budget for 1861-62.
