Chairman's letter of the 3rd August 1897, that the export from Madras of articles classed as "susceptible" coming from infected ~~ports~~ areas is extremely limited, and that it does not, therefore, seem necessary that any special measures should be adopted, at present, for the protection of Madras as a clean port. In this view His Excellency the Governor in Council concurs.

2. It will further be seen that the Chamber is of opinion that the instructions and regulations prescribed by the Convention seem well calculated to prevent the spread of the plague to foreign countries.
