The accompanying file was linked with another paper on the same subject and handed over to me ^{by Mr. J.S. Ramaswami Aiyar} on the morning of the 11th instant with special instructions to circulate them both to H.M. (1) at once. The circulation cart was about to start and I had just time enough to put the papers in an urgent cover without even making the necessary note in the circulation register which I had to do afterwards. It will thus be seen that I had no opportunity to examine the files before circulating them. The file in question was sent to the Public Dept. for counterinitials yesterday morning and the Under Secretary of that Dept. objects to counterinitial the paper now.

Note for the Under Secretary
Public Dept.

The draft should have been submitted for counterinitials in the Public Dept. before circulation, but the Circulation Clerk deviated from the ordinary procedure under the scheme in manner mentioned in his Nth. of explanation attached. The order has been drafted under the Hon. Member's own instructions.

I see that the draft
has already been circulated to H.M. Do you want it to be C.I.D. in the Public Dept. or please?

There was another file linked with this, which was not marked to the Public Dept.
for C.I. This had to go with it to the Honourable Sir May Bliss.

I don't understand.
How can Public Counterintelligence
after H.M. has passed this draft? At 13/6/98
