Approving the revised form of the Educational Statement III submitted by the Director of Public Instruction.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

From the Hon'ble Mr. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc., LL.D., Director of Public Instruction, to the Secretary to Government, Local and Municipal Department, dated Madras, 6th December 1897, No. 13513.

With reference to the concluding portion of paragraph 4 (2) of G.O., No. 2427 M., dated 4th ultimo, and to similar remarks in the recent orders reviewing local and municipal administration reports, I have the honour to state that the observations seem to have been based on the assumption that all untrained and unpassed teachers are unqualified.

2. Under the Madras Educational Rules, however (Chapter II, Articles 3 and 4), teachers holding trained teachers' certificates, teachers holding untrained teachers' certificates with two or four years' approved service in recognized schools, and teachers who hold no professional certificate, but who have put in five or seven years' approved service in recognized schools prior to 1st April 1895 are all alike treated as qualified teachers, experience gained in actual teaching work in the last two cases being held to take the place of attendance and instruction in a training school. For the professional qualifications of the staff, if one half of the number of assistants and sewing mistresses) are qualified as above, not to speak of the qualifications required of the headmaster; and so long as a school fulfils this condition, the staff should be considered as qualified. It is neither desirable nor possible to impose at present more stringent conditions in regard to the recognition of schools, as it would lead to the closing of a large number of primary schools and would seriously retard primary education.

3. The conditions of aid are, as might be expected, more stringent than those of recognition. Under Chapter III of the Grant-in-aid Code, salary grants are not given to uncertificated masters, except for those employed in poor schools, in schools for Muhammadans, and in schools for backward and indigent classes or in backward localities, and generally higher rates of grants are given for trained than for untrained teachers. In calculating the net cost of result schools for the purpose of fixing the assignment, the pay of trained teachers of each grade is fixed at a higher rate than that of untrained teachers of the same grade, and similarly the pay of untrained teachers is higher than that of uncertificated teachers, except in the case of a comparatively small number of schools in which fixed salaries are paid. The code thus offers pecuniary inducements to the teachers to qualify for higher professional certificates.

4. In statement III embodied in G.O., No. 885 L., dated 15th April 1891, the number of teachers is shown under four heads—holding normal certificates, holding ordinary certificates, holding general education certificates and unpassed; and in the Inspection Code issued by me in March last, another column was added to this statement to show the number of teachers who are qualified solely by length of service. I now think that the statement may be revised so as to convey a clearer idea of the number of teachers severally qualified under the Educational Rules. I beg to request that the enclosed revised form may be approved in lieu of the one approved in G.O., No. 739 L., dated 14th April last.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras, 5 December 1897.

No. 13513.

From

THE HONOURABLE MR. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc. LL.D.,

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras,

To

The Secretary to Government,

Local and Municipal Department.

SIR,

With reference to the concluding portion of paragraph 4 (2) of G.O.No 2427 M, dated 4th ultimo, and to similar remarks in the recent order reviewing local and municipal administration reports, I have the honour to state that the observations seem to have been based on the assumption that all untrained and unpassed teachers are unqualified.

2. Under the Madras Educational Rules, however, (Chapter II, articles 3 & 4) teachers holding trained teachers' certificates, teachers holding untrained teachers' certificates, with two or four years' approved service in recognized schools, and teachers ^{who} hold no professional certificate but who have put in five or seven years' approved service in recognized schools prior to 1st April 1895 are all alike treated as qualified teachers, experience ^{gained} in actual teaching work in the last two cases being held to take the place of attendance and instruction in a training school. For a school to be entitled to the privileges of recognition, it is enough, with regard to the professional qualifications of the staff, if one half of the number of assistants (excluding pandits, munshis, writing masters, gymnastic instructors, sewing masters and sewing mistresses) are qualified as above, not to speak of the qualifications required of the headmaster; and so long as a school fulfils this condition, the staff should be considered as qualified. It is neither desirable nor possible to impose at present more stringent conditions in regard to the recognition of schools, as it would lead to the closing of a large number of primary schools and would seriously retard primary education.

3. The conditions of aid are, as might be expected, more stringent than those of recognition. Under Chapter III of the Grant-in-Aid Code, salary grants are not given to uncertificated masters, except for those employed in poor schools, in schools for Muhammadans, and in schools for backward and indigent classes or in backward localities, and generally higher rates of grants are given for trained than for untrained teachers.

In calculating the net cost of results schools for the purpose of fixing the assignment, the pay of trained teachers of each grade is fixed at a higher rate than that of untrained teachers of the same grade, and similarly the pay of untrained teachers is higher than that of uncertificated teachers, except in the case of a comparatively small number of schools in which fixed salaries are paid. The code thus offers pecuniary inducements to the teachers to qualify for higher professional certificates.

4. In statement III embodied in G.O. No 885 L (Local and Municipal) dated 15th April 1891, the number of teachers is shewn under four heads—holding normal certificates, holding ordinary certificates, holding general education certificates and unpassed; and in the Inspection Code issued by me in March last, another column was added to this statement to shew the number of teachers who are qualified solely by length of service. I now think that the statement may be revised so as to convey a clearer idea of the number of teachers severally qualified under the Educational Rules. I beg to request that the enclosed revised form may be approved in lieu of the one approved in G.O. No 739 L dated 14th April last.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

J. G. Guman
