Mr. Carlyon Port Officer Gopalpore that he must expect to receive insolence if his own manner is discourteous as from his own report of the matter was the case. I do not wish to appear to defend Mr. Lisely whose conduct is most reprehensible, but I do think that both Mr. Carlyon and Captain Street expect too much from Mr. Lisely.

I recommend that Mr. Lisely be reprimanded and warned that his services will be dispensed with unless he shows more tact and courtesy in his position as Port Conservator towards those who have official business to transact with him.
