From the Superintending Engineer, I (Circb, No. 1647 G. E., dated 2nd August 1899:-

With reference to your 1829W, dated 14th July 1899 para 2, I have the honour to inform you that the depth of water on the Cocanada bar continues satisfactory. There is no doubt that the whole foreshore on the north of the northern groyne is gradually shoaling up, and extending seawards. No doubt the bar will eventually be affected and dredging necessary. It is presumed that before that time Cocanada Port will be provided with a dredger.

The tracing is herewith returned.

Order thereon:- No. 2246 W of 24-8-99.

Recorded with the remark that as the dredger may be expected towards the close of the year, no action is necessary.
