Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 9th July 1861.

No. 151. Read the following telegram from the Secretary to the Government of India, to T. PYCROFT, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, dated Calcutta, 9th July 1861:—

It is proposed to amend the Income Tax Act by giving power to Government to dispense for the forthcoming Income Tax year with the notices and returns required by the Income Tax Act in respect to such year on the amount on which Tax-payers were assessed for the current years, but any one who thinks himself over-assessed may, within a certain period, make a fresh return for the coming year, and be assessed thereon under the present Act. Opinion of Government is required on this. It is, in fact, to rest content with the returns already got and not to call for fresh ones. Persons not assessed for eighteen sixty, sixty-one, will be liable to be assessed for eighteen sixty-one, sixty-two, under the present Act. It is likely that Government will sustain great loss unless [power] is reserved to call for fresh returns in special cases of present under-assessments.

No. 152. ORDER THEREON, 9th July 1861, No. 1,380.

Forwarded to the Board of Revenue and Commissioners of Madras, for early report.

(Signed) J. D. SIM,

Secretary to Government.

WORD

Providence has proposed to amend the Income Tax Act by giving power to Government to dispense for the forthcoming Income Tax year with the notices and returns required by the income tax act in respect to such year on the amount on which tax is paid in the preceding year, but not on any part of the profits himself or specified may within a certain period make a fresh return for the coming year and be charged thereon and the present act requiring a return to be made on all the
 in each year contrast with the returns already required not to call for fresh ones, persons not assessed for last year, however will be liable to be assessed for eighteen or, sixty-two, under the present act it is likely that will sustain great loss unless is reserved to call for returns in special cases of present under assessments.
