The decrease in Water rent is on account of heavy fall of rain throughout the season. The increase in Mill rent is due to the steady supply of water. The decreases in Transit dues, Fines, and Sale of Produce, and increase in Sundry Collections, &c., are accidental.

LANDOUR,

The 28th August 1863.

A. D. TURNBULL, Lieut. Colonel,

Supdt. General of Irrigation, N. W. Provinces.

Comparative Abstract of Income of the Canals West of Junna for the Rubbee Crop of 1860-61 and 1861-62.

The falling off in Water rent is owing to the rains having been favorable; most of the seed was put into the ground without Palai. The increase in Mill rent, Sundry Collections, &c., is due to the decrease in irrigation. The decrease in Transit dues may be attributed to the extinction of the forests. The decrease in Fines is due to the water not being in such demand as it was during the famine, and the people had less temptation to infringe the Canal Rules.

LANDOUR,

A. D. TURNBULL, Lieut. Colonel,

The 28th August 1863.

Supdt. Genl. of Irrigation, N. W. Provinces.

The entire share of Central office has been charged to the Western Jumna Canals. 2nd. The balances of the capital and revenue account of the "Nudjughur Jheel Works" have been brought forward in this statement under the general heading of the "Delhi and Goorgaon Irrigation Works." This change in the designation of headings ought to have been made in the statement for last year, when the details of "Charges" and "Income" (previously confined to the Nudjughur Jheel Works) of the Nudjughur Jheel Works and Bunds in the Delhi and Goorgaon Districts, were for the first time thrown together, as (the works being under one Superintendent.) it was found inconvenient if not impracticable to keep the charges for maintenance and repairs any longer separate.

The increase in Mill Rent is to be attributed partly to the Mills having been given on contract, but more especially to the little demand for water for irrigation. The wood on two or three of the old loops on the Delhi Canal has been sold, which has led to an increase in the item of sale of Canal produce. The increase in Transit dues can only be attributed to there having been a larger demand for Timber than formerly. The decrease in Water rent, &c., is due to the very favorable rains.

LANDOUR,

The 28th August 1863.

A. D. TURNBULL, Lieut. Colonel,

Supdt. General of Irrigation, N. W. Provinces.

The rains of 1862 were unusually late, so that no water was required to prepare the land for sowing, and during the cold weather rain fell just as the cultivators required it; owing to these causes there was little demand for water during the Rubbee. The increase of Mill rent is owing to the small demand for water for irrigation, leaving plenty of spare water for the Mills. The other differences are owing to accidental circumstances.

In forwarding the enclosed Supplemental Statement of money required on account of salaries this month in the Narund District, I have the honor to inform you that in my statement dated 12th ultimo provision was made for the salary and travelling allowance for betoken of Mr. Bamed Supervisor who had just then joined the Division.

3. State the opportunity of remarking that it is impossible for me on the 12th of one month to calculate the exact amount that will be required during the following month on account of salaries in each of the 34 Sahibs of this Division.

Sir,

Referring to the correspondence as per margin, I have the honor, by desire of the Board of Examiners, to inform you that Messrs. Smith, Cumming and Morris

by a Committee convened for that purpose, the two former in Tamil,
and the latter in Telugu.

2. The Board are of opinion that these officers have failed in attaining

Sir, I have the honor to request you will be good enough to inform me whether under the present rules of the Department Public Works in the Madras Presidency, any examinational test is required in the case of promotion from one grade to another of the Upper Subordinates, or whether length of service and the recommendation of a Superior Officer are the only requisites.

For instance, is an Assistant Supervisor, or Supervisor eligible for promotion to the rank of Sub Engineer, supposing him to have served a certain period in the lower grade, or is he required to pass any special examination as a test of his fitness. —
