20th August 1866.

No. 428. Read the following letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, (Railway), to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Works Department, (Railway), dated Simla, 23rd July 1866, No. 756 R:—

1. I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 1,769, of the 5th ultimo, forwarding a revised set of Rules and Regulations for the management of the Madras Railway, and in reply to inform you, that until the Law relating to Railways in India is amended, the General Regulations at present in force must remain as they are, but to intimate that any subsidiary rules that may be found to be necessary or expedient on particular lines, provided they are not at variance with the General Regulations, may be submitted, and will at once be taken into consideration by the Government of India. In this view, I am directed to communicate the approval of the Governor General in Council to the Rules at pages 43—51 for working the ghauts. The Rules for Line Watchmen, at page 117, Section XVIII, were approved by the Government of India in my letter No. 816 R, of the 9th September 1865.

2. It is considered essential that there should be one set of General Regulations for all Railways, embracing such points as are common to all, and leaving special points to be dealt with in subsidiary rules for each line.
