1. I have the honor to solicit the sanction of Government to the value of the articles noted in the margin, Rupees 10-1-6, being written off to "profit and loss."

2. During the storm in November last, the room in which these articles were stored was considerably damaged, and while removing the stores, the locks were either stolen or lost amongst a heap of mamooties on which they were placed. To remove the latter and re-pack them would cost four times the value of the missing articles, but should the locks be found in the course of issue of the mamooties, they will again be brought to account. In the meantime it is necessary, for the correct accounting of the stores, that these missing articles should be written off the books.
