CIVIL WORKS, No. 62.

The Government are of opinion that the provision of separate rooms for records, detached from the Court-house, is very objectionable, and that rooms for "zufted" property in the Court's custody are of doubtful necessity. A copy of the recent correspondence on this subject with the Civil Judge of Coimbatore will be furnished by the Judicial Department to the Civil Judge of Rajahmundry, who will report the circumstances under which he applied to the Superintending Engineer for the additional accommodation under notice, and what, if any, new condition of things has arisen to demand more room for "zufted" property than has hitherto been available.
