ENCLOSURE.
One original letter.

September 1868, I have the honor to report that the old Travellers' Bungalow and Court-house, at Vellore, are stated to be in good condition, especially the first named building, and that, though as materials they could be utilized in works in progress there, the Assistant Engineer considers that Government would gain considerably in disposing of the buildings as they stand by public auction.

2. They are not required for occupation by this Department.

Transferred to the Judicial Department, with reference to the docket in that Department of the 12th September 1868, herewith returned.
