No. 3. Read the following Endorsement of the Officiating Superintending Engineer, 8th Division, dated Madras, 14th April 1869, No. 96 :—

Read the following letter from W. S. Harington, Esq., Executive Engineer, Tinnevely, to the Superintending Engineer, 8th Division, dated Mylapoorum, 12th April 1869, No. 18 :—

1. I request that you will be good enough to forward to Government, with, if you think proper, your recommendation that it may be granted, my application for two months' leave* of absence to which I am entitled under the rules in force.

* Privilege.

2. I would not make this application if I did not feel that my health and strength are unequal to the task imposed upon me of living in tents, and working with a level, during at least the next six weeks, in the Tambrapoorney valley; work which (with all deference I say it) might be confided to a careful Surveyor, being merely taking the levels of channels. I had no conception that my duties in Tinnevely would be confined to this, or I would have urged my inability to stand such constant and continuous exposure to the sun at the hottest time of the year, as I have already had one sun stroke for which I was sent Home in 1860, and have had eight years' of constant exposure since then, besides a dangerous attack of illness in 1864.

3. When I say that the thermometer in the Sub-Collector's house at Shermadavy stood at 97° three days ago, some idea may be formed of the heat in tents; the Natives even cannot stand the work and the lengthened absences from head-quarters, and are shirking and knocking up in all directions.

As Mr. Harington finds his health and strength unequal to the special duty entrusted to him, I forward the application for the consideration of Government, which I could hardly have done on any other and less valid reason. I am not, however, of opinion that the two Surveyors employed on the channels are at all capable of conducting the duty for which the Executive Engineer has been deputed, and if the Government are pleased to grant the leave, I trust another Executive Officer may be found available to carry on the work in the Tambrapoorney Irrigation Range.

Sir,
I request that you will be good enough to forward to Government with, if you think proper, your recommendation that it may be granted my application for two months leave of absence to which I am entitled under the rules in force.

2. I would not make this application had.

had no conception that my duties in Vinnemully would be confined to this or that would have urged my inability to stand such constant and continuous exposure to the sun at the hottest time of the year as I have already had once or twice for which I was sent home in 1860, and have had eight years of constant exposure since then, besides a dangerous attack of illness in 1864.

3. When I say that the thermometer in the Sub Collector's house at Chermadary stood at 97° three days ago some idea may be formed of the heat in tents. The natives even cannot stand the work and the lengthened absences from Head Quarters and are shirking and knocking up in all directions.
