Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 22nd February 1870.

No. 437. Read the following letter from the Superintending Engineer, 6th Division, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Camp at Puduchuttram, 28th January 1870, No. 1,247 :—

With reference to G. O., No. 3,992, dated 20th December, I have the honour to inform you that the Pandaviyaur and Velliyaur, the streams over which the bridges on Road No. 58 are to be constructed, do not come within the category of artificial channels which have been constructed during the present century; but as it was proposed to construct the regulating works for those streams in connection with the bridges, whereby both the bridges and the regulators would mutually benefit, it was supposed that the plan adopted with regard to the bridges in connection with the Codamoorty head would be adopted here, viz., that half the cost of the bridges would be defrayed from Local Funds, and the other half be debited to the regulators. By adopting this plan with regard to the Pandaviyaur and Velliyaur regulators, a sum of Rupees 9,315 will be saved under the head "Agricultural" on the two regulators as follows :—

	Pandaviyaur.	Velliyaur.
Estimate for head-work inclusive of bridges	30,180	24,730
Head-work without bridges according to Major Mullins' design...	27,410	22,860
Difference	2,770	1,870
Half cost of bridges only	7,950	6,005
Saving	5,180	4,135

LOCAL FUNDS, No. 49.

Civil Works.

The Government are of opinion that, looking to the inadequacy of the Imperial Funds at their disposal to meet the many pressing demands for Public Works it is necessary, in conformity with the rules laid down in the Orders of the 8th January and 11th March 1869, Nos. 54 and 870, to restrict grants from those funds, for the construction of masonry works on District roads, to such works as are required over artificial canals and channels, which have been constructed during the present century. Under these circumstances, although an exception was made in the case of the Kodamoorty regulators, the expense of constructing bridges, in connection with the proposed works of regulation at the heads of the Pandaivyaur and Velliyaur, in the Tanjore District, will have to be entirely borne by Local Funds.
