Read the following letters :—

No. 32. From the Under Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, (Establishment—General,) to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Works Department, dated Fort William, 8th March 1871, No. 350-E.G.

REFERRING to entries No. 153-4 in the Proceedings (Establishment) of the Government of Madras for the month of December 1870, relieving Colonel Carpendale from the retrenchment of salary, which his election of the new rules regarding salaries will entail, I am directed to point out that, as the question is one which involves a departure from existing rules, it should be submitted for the consideration and orders of the Government of India.

No. 33. From the Controller of Public Works Accounts, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Madras, 21st March 1871, No. 2,895.

ADVERTING to the Proceedings of Government, No. 418, dated 9th February 1871, I have the honour to report that, under that Order, the number of Superintending Engineers in this Presidency was in excess of the sanctioned scale by one from the 28th January 1871, the date on which Colonel Boileau assumed charge of the 5th Division, to the 4th March 1871, the date on which Captain Ryves delivered over charge of the 8th Division to Lieutenant-Colonel Roberts.

2. As this temporary excess over the authorized scale requires the sanction of the Government of India, I respectfully request that the proceedings of this Government may be reported for confirmation.

ESTABLISHMENT, No. 3.

SIR,—In compliance with the instructions of the Government of India, as communicated in your letter of the 8th March 1871, No. 350-E. G., I am directed to submit for consideration the following explanations of the grounds on which Colonel Carpendale, the Consulting Engineer for the Madras Irrigation and Canal Company, was relieved from the retrenchment of pay which his election of the new rules regarding consolidated salaries entailed.

2. With reference to the notification of the Government of India under date the 7th October 1870, No. 341, the Consulting Engineer for the Madras Irrigation and Canal Company was graded as a Chief Engineer of Class III.; but, on the receipt of the letter from that Government, dated 15th October 1870, No. 332, in which it was explained that the number of Chief Engineers in the second class might be raised from one to two by the promotion of one from the third class, Colonel Carpendale, who had officiated as Consulting Engineer from August 1869, was, on being confirmed in that appointment on the 1st November 1870, graded as a Chief Engineer of Class II. Not having, however, held any substantive position during the period that he officiated as Consulting Engineer, Colonel Carpendale, by electing the new rules, was entitled to only a moiety of the salary of a Chief Engineer of the third class, or Rupees 900 a month from 1st September, when those rules came into force, to the 31st October 1870; and having under the old rules actually drawn during this period Rupees 1,835-15-0 per mensem, he became liable to a retrenchment of Rupees 875-15-0 for each of those months.

3. Taking into consideration the fact that even when unemployed Colonel Carpendale was entitled to Rupees 1,265 as the pay of his rank, His Excellency the Governor in Council was of opinion that, while officiating in a position of responsibility, the peculiar circumstances under which he was deprived of permanent employment on the abolition of the appointment of Mint Master could not justly be held to militate against his interests, and, under the circumstances, this Government trust that their proceeding in relieving him from retrenchment will be confirmed.

4. I am to take this opportunity of also submitting two other cases which were disposed of by this Government in the belief that the sanction of higher authority was not needed, but which, with reference to the letter from the Government of India under acknowledgment, would seem to be required.

5. The first is that of Lieutenant-Colonel Roberts, who, while officiating as Superintending Engineer of the 5th Division, was selected to preside over a Committee appointed for the special and important duty of examining the foundations of bridges on the Madras Railway in consequence of the recent accident at the Cheyaur. On the return of Colonel Boileau from leave, Lieutenant-Colonel Roberts was relieved of the charge of the 5th Division on the 28th January 1871, and would have been directed to proceed immediately to take charge of the office of Superintending Engineer of the 8th Division if he could have been relieved of his duties as a member of the Railway Committee. This arrangement was not, however, at the time practicable, and Lieutenant-Colonel Roberts' assumption of the charge of the 8th Division was unavoidably delayed until the 4th March 1871. Under these exceptional circumstances it seemed only fair that he should not be subjected to any pecuniary loss, and the difference between the salary of an Executive Engineer and that of Acting Superintending Engineer was accordingly authorized to be passed to him, a proceeding which it is hoped will meet with approval.

6. The last case is that of Captain C. J. Smith, Deputy Consulting Engineer for Railways. Captain Smith was confirmed in that appointment on the 15th October 1870, but the new scale of salaries which he elected not having been promulgated till the 25th October, he actually drew pay from 1st September to the 14th October at the rate of Rupees 893-10-0 per mensem, as shown in the margin. Captain Smith's permanent rank in the department prior to 15th October 1870 having been that of Executive Engineer of the 2nd grade the consolidated salary attached to which is Rupees 800, he became liable to a retrenchment at the rate of Rupees 93-10-0 per mensem from 1st September to 14th October; but, under the peculiar circumstances of his case, he was relieved from that retrenchment, and His Excellency the Governor in Council trusts that this proceeding will also meet with the confirmation of the Government of India.

Sir,

In compliance with the instructions of the Govt.
of India, as communicated in your letter of the 8th March/71, No. 350 & 2 of 8 March/71, I am directed to submit for consideration the following explanation of the grounds on which Col. Carpenter died, the long reign for the Madras S. P. Company, was referred from the settlement of pay which his election of the new Rules regarding consolidated salaries entailed.

With reference to the Notification of the Govt. of India under date the 7th Oct/70, No. 341, the Engineer for the Madras S. M. Company was graded as a Chief Engineer of Class III; but, in the receipt of the letter from that Govt. dated 15th October 1870, No. 332, in which it was explained that the number of Chief Engineers in the second class might be raised from one to two the third class, Col. Sarpendale, who had officiated as Chief Engineer from August 1869, the 1st November 1870, graded as a Chief Engineer of Class II.

Not having ^{however} held any substantive position during the period that he officiated as Chief Engineer, Col. Sarpendale, by electing the new rules, was entitled to only a moiety of the the salary of a Chief Eng. of the 3rd Class, or Rs. 900 a month, from 1st September, when those rules came into force, to the 31st October 1870, and having under the old rules actually drawn during this period Rs. 1835-15-0 per

I am to take this opportunity of also submitting two other cases which were disposed of by this Government in the belief that the sanction of higher authority was not needed, but which, with reference to the letter from the Govt of India under acknowledgment, would seem to be required.

The first is that of Lieut. Col. Roberts, who while officiating as Inspector of the 5th Division was selected to preside over a Committee appointed for the special and important duty of examining the foundations of bridge on the Madras Railway in consequence of the recent accident at the Cheyaur. On the the return of Col. Boileau from leave, Lt Col. Roberts was relieved of the charge of the 5th Division on the 25th January 1871, and would have been directed to proceed immediately to take charge of the Office of Supergrs of the 8th Division if he could have been relieved of his duties as a Member of the Railway Committee.
