Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 29th November 1872.

No. 468. Read the following letter from the Inspector-General, Indian Medical Department, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Fort St. George, 28th October 1872, No. 339:—

THE G. O., No. 2,590-A., dated 12th August 1872, arranged for the construction of a new cook-room for the hospital of Her Majesty's Artillery and Infantry Regiment at Madras, but no order was then issued regarding the future use of the out-house now occupied as that hospital cook-room.

2. I have the honour to recommend, for the favourable consideration of Government, that the block of buildings forming the present cook-room be allowed to remain and all form part of the out-houses of the building occupied by the Assistant Surgeon in the General Hospital, and of which one portion at least was formerly part. At present the only out-house attached to that Officer's quarters is a very small cook-room 10½ feet × 7½ feet, and the discomforts which he experienced arose not from the building but from the noises and odours in the cook-room in which the diets of about sixty sick people have to be prepared.

No. 469. ORDER THEREON, 29th November 1872, No. 2,802.

MILITARY WORKS, No. 15.

THIS letter will be referred to the Superintending Engineer of the 4th Division.

2. It is observed that had the arrangements for the disposition of accommodation at the General Hospital premises been properly concerted between the Inspector-General of Hospitals and the Superintending Engineer of the 4th Division in the first instance, there would have been no occasion for the subsequent references on the subject which have been made to Government. Communication on such subjects between departmental officers should be full and unreserved, a point to which the Inspecting Engineers will in future see that due attention has been paid before referring papers for final orders of Government.
