No. 302.

Dated 18th April 1873, No. 1,130.

ACCOUNT, No. 22.

It has frequently been brought to the notice of Government that extra receipts are not promptly remitted into the Treasury by Range Officers. The rules require that such receipts shall be paid in before the end of the month in which they are realized. In directing special attention to the subject, on which the Controller's Circular No. X. of the 11th September 1867 was issued, His Excellency the Governor in Council must insist upon strict compliance with its requirements in all possible cases. Under any circumstances it should be clearly understood that extra receipts realized during a month, should, on no account, be withheld from the Treasury beyond the close of the following month at the latest. District Engineers will take due notice of any neglect of Head Accountants in this respect, and will report to Government the names of such Range Officers as may omit to see that full effect is given to the orders now communicated.
