School and Library Latrine at Wellington.

2. The latrine, as now constructed, is represented to be very defective, and therefore cannot be kept clean. The effluvium arising from it is offensive and unhealthy, and has been frequently complained of by the Commandant. To remedy this, it is proposed so to alter the latrine as to admit of the same system being carried out in it as is in force in the other barrack latrines, which have been found to work well.

3. The plan and estimate have met with the approval of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.
