276 to 277
Dated	15 7	1873.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 15th July 1873.

Read the following letters :—

No. 275. From Captain H. SMALLEY, R.E., Officiating District Engineer, Ganjam, to Colonel G. W. WALKER, R.E., Chief Engineer and Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Chatterpore, 16th May 1873, No. 13.

I REGRET to have to report the death of one man and injury to three others, whilst at work in a gravel-pit on the Aska and Russelconda Road, on the 22nd ultimo. The Range Officer proceeded to the spot next day and thoroughly inquired into the causes of the accident in company with the Police and village authorities. All are agreed the Public Works Department subordinates are free from blame, and that the sufferers acted in direct contradiction to the orders given by the former as to where they were to dig gravel and where not. The proceedings of the Sub-Magistrate at Aska in the case are to the same effect.

No. 276. From the same Officer, dated Chatterpore, 18th June 1873, No. 18.

ADVERTING to your memorandum, dated 28th May last, No. 207, I have the honour to forward the Proceedings and verdict of the Court of Inquest as therein called for.

No. 277. ORDER THEREON, 15th July 1873, No. 1,816.

ESTABLISHMENT, No. 27.

ORDERED to be recorded.

2. It is observed that the Court of Inquest absolves the Overseer of all responsibility in connection with the accident reported in the above papers, he having cautioned the Contractors two days before the occurrence of the accident against their digging gravel at the particular site indicated. The Government would otherwise have been compelled to take severe notice of his conduct. And they resolve, with reference to their orders dated 14th March 1873, No. 802, to again draw the attention of officers and subordinates to the necessity of their using every precaution for the prevention of similar accidents.

There is much ~~pit~~^{pit} of gravel near the hill Victoria.
On the 20. April last Overseer R. Romanyiah saw the Contractors digging gravel near the said hill and suspecting some accident might occur to them by their digging into the side of the pit ordered them to dig in another place - this they admit was the case. but finding the new site very hard they returned to the old pit. On the 22^d April 1873 suddenly a large solid mass
gave way at top.

If they had acted according to the instructions given by ^{the} Overseer Romanyah handed on the 20th April to dig gravel in another place this fatal accident would not have occurred.
The Contractor thinking to get gravel easily in the old pit dug there in disobedience of the Overseer's orders. The accident occurred by deceased's own doing and no one else is in fault.
The death was the result of an accident.
