Specification Report to accompany the Estimate of Rupees 226 for providing batches to the Arm Pouches of the Native Infantry Regiment at Palamcottah.

The top of the existing rack should first be cut as shown in the drawing so that by lifting the catch the rifle may be placed in the stand without rubbing against the edges of the opening.

The batches themselves are to be of flat iron $\frac{1}{8}$ " thick and neatly finished to the dimensions and shape given in the drawing. At one end the catch is to be fixed by a screw, so that it may freely turn, and at the other end, a small knob (to aid in lifting) must be rivetted in. The end of the iron catch and the edge of wood it rests on must be accurately fitted.
