Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 10th February 1873.

No. 223. Read the following papers:—

Endorsement of the Marine Department, dated 19th November 1872.
From the Master Attendant, Administrative Department, Madras, to the Officiating
Chief Secretary to Government, Marine Department, dated Madras, 14th November 1872, No. 6,421.

HAVING been informed by the Master Attendant, Cocanada, that the Department Public Works are about to commence a revetment on the south side of the Cocanada river with stone, I have the honour to bring to the notice of Government, with my approval, a suggestion made by that officer in connection with the work I refer to, and to solicit that the necessary orders be issued, through the Public Works Department, to have the necessary alteration made in the plan of the work, and the revision of the estimate if deemed requisite.

2. Captain Castor brings to notice that as the whole of the south bank will be revetted, there will be no suitable place for the cargo boats to lay up for repairs. He therefore recommends that a "siding" be cut and revetted in the same manner as the bank, 150 feet long, 60 feet deep, sloping to the margin of the water as shown in the margin. This siding will be greatly needed by the boats in the river, and I therefore strongly recommend its being carried out.

TRANSFERRED to the Department Public Works.

(Signed) W. HUDLESTON,
Officiating Chief Secretary.

REFERRED to the Superintending Engineer, 1st Division, for report and estimate of additional cost.

(Signed) G. W. WALKER, Colonel, R.E.,

not therefore be revised for the present; the objection to this kind of thing is it is so liable to silt up that unless constantly cleared out in a very short time it becomes practically useless, and one such place already made near the Custom-house wharf at Cocanada some years ago has never been of any use.
