Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 11th February 1873.

No. 232. Read the following letter from the Superintendent of Telegraphs, Madras Division, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Madras, 4th February 1873, No. 2,638 :—

With reference to Madras Government Order No. 63, dated 14th January 1873, I have the honour to request the favour of being furnished, as soon as possible, with a plan and elevation of the proposed Telegraph Office Building.

2. Before the Madras Bank relinquished the site assigned to them, it was, I believe, proposed to build the Telegraph Office, so that its front should face the south. It is scarcely necessary to point out the disadvantages of a southern prospect on the beach. The "long-shore" wind is unhealthy and unpleasant, and a building intended for a large establishment should not be open to it. The telegraph wires must always come along the beach from the Railway Terminus, and it would be much easier and better to carry them into a building having its front to the east than to one with a southern prospect.

3. Requesting early consideration of the matter.

No. 233. ORDER THEREON, 11th February 1873, No. 444.

TELEGRAPH, No. 3.

The Superintendent of Telegraphs, Madras Division, will be informed that the question of the site of the new Telegraph Office is no longer open to discussion.

2. The plans will be forwarded for his inspection and return with the least possible delay. From these plans the Superintendent will see that the building will have three fronts, but that the principal entry will be from the southern.
