Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 3rd June 1874.

No. 47. Read the following letter from Lieutenant-Colonel J. H. M. SHAW-STEWART, R.E., Consulting Engineer for Railways, to Colonel G. W. WALKER, R.E., Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Madras, 8th May 1874, No. 275:—

WITH reference to the Proceedings of Government, No. 2,795, dated 28th November 1872, I have the honour to submit herewith a tracing of the gratings which the Madras Railway Company propose to use in the second-class carriages for the conveyance of Civil and Military prisoners.

Like the framework in use on the East Indian Railway it is applied from the inside of the carriage, and the horizontal bars outside the body are secured by a staple and padlock.

2. The Agent of the Great Southern of India Railway writes that it "very rarely happens that European Military prisoners are conveyed over that Company's line. When required, the accommodation provided is in the shape of a second-class compartment which is closed in from the remaining portion of the carriage."

Civil prisoners are conveyed in the same manner.
