COMMISSARIAT OFFICE,
WELLINGTON,

FROM
THE EXECUTIVE COMMISSARIAT OFFICER
WELLINGTON.

To
The Commandant
Wellington

SIR,

In forwarding the accompanying estimate for the construction of sky lights in the roof of the Commissariat godown, I have the honor to state that when this building was first constructed, there were several large windows, on both ^{sides} of the godown, but in consequence of an attempted robbery by one of the windows of the inside of the godown, the Commissariat officer in charge locked up all the windows on the outside of the godown, leaving only those inside the square, which are totally inadequate for the purpose of giving light. The godowns are so dark that at the extreme ends of each godown, it is impossible to detect a leak in a case of lignum or any damage done to any property in that part of the godown. This was pointed out to Colonel Farr.

I cannot tell, but as these sky lights are frequently broken, it is necessary to have them repaired.
