Sir

On the 2^d November last the enclosed letter was received from Assistant Engineer Mr. Nannan requesting that a last pay certificate should be forwarded to his address in London, and the pay due to him for October 1874 noted in the Certificate to admit of his drawing the amount at the India Office.

2. As no report had been furnished to this Office of the date on which Mr. Nannan was relieved of his duties in the Department, or of the port at, and the date and name of the Steamer on, which he embarked for England, the District Engineer, Godavery, was requested to supply the omission and to explain the circumstances under which Mr. Nannan left India without the required Certificate.

3. Major Beatty now reports that Mr. Nannan was relieved of the Charge of his Range on the 18th October 1874, and with your permission, embarked for England on the 23rd Idem on the Canal Steamer "Beewick."

4. As under the rules an Officer embarking on furlough should take with him a last pay certificate, and as at the time Mr. Hannan embarked, he had not by two days completed the required 8 years active service in India to render him eligible to furlough, having arrived in the country on the 25th October 1866, it seems necessary that a special report of the circumstance should be made to the Secretary of State.

5. The allowances to which Mr. Hannan is entitled while on furlough are noted in the accompanying Certificate.

From

Mr. Hannan. 22nd October

Many thanks for your kind telegram I leave tomorrow for Venice.

On the 13th July 1874 Mr. Hannan applied (thru the District Judge Gardner) for two years' furlough to Europe. The Controller having reported that Mr. Hannan would be eligible to the leave applied for in the 1st November 1874. It was daily granted in "notification" under date the 4th Aug last, copy of which is enclosed.

As soon as the papers had been disposed of, they were, in the ordinary course, sent down to the Masters Office, and nothing further occurred till the 20th October, when Mr. Hannan requested permission to avail himself of his furlough on the 22nd Idem, noted off 1st Nov. for reasons stated in the accompanying telegram. Mr.
Hannan who told it reply.

into the District Engineer's approval to the arrangement was necessary; and Major Beatty having telegraphed on the 21st Oct. to the effect that he had no objection, the Chief Engineer granted Mr. Hannan the required permission.

When the Chief Engineer's telegram (last mentioned) was drafted and despatched, the papers relating to Mr. Hannan's leave were at the Potacomund Office, as already explained, the Registry having been disposed of nearly three months previously; and as the District Engineer Goddard, when especially referred to, did not point out the irregularity of Mr. Hannan being allowed to leave two days before his furlough was due, it was understood that the application was admissible and Mr. Hannan was accordingly permitted to embark for Europe.
