MEMORANDUM.

APPLICATION for certain rearrangement of allotments having been received from the District Engineer, North Arcot, the Examiner of Public Works Accounts was asked* whether under the orders abolishing the distinction between Budget and Famine Relief-works in this and other districts any transfers and reappropriations are now necessary. The Examiner states that in such districts transfers and reappropriations appear unnecessary, and he considers it is a question on which the orders of Government should be taken. He adds "not only the normal share of the reserve grants for minor works and repairs should be transferred to such districts, but also such savings as may be anticipated in non-famine districts by the suspension of ordinary works, which it is not absolutely necessary should be proceeded with."

* By office note No. 801 W, 28th September 1877.

2. The reserve for Original Works is very small,† and it would be useless to distribute it; there is no normal share moreover, the reserve being intended to meet unexpected demands wherever arising. Under Repairs there is no reserve at all. Savings in non-famine districts will be available as a set off against excess expenditure in famine districts, but no action can be taken until such savings are found to be feasible. Maintenance of works is as necessary this year in non-famine districts as at any time, and the operations under Original Works other than extraordinary are insignificant.

Are any transfers or reappropriations now making in any District in which the distinction between Budget & Famine Relief works is abolished. 30 8014.25

This is a question which I think should be submitted for the orders of Government.

In Districts in which the distinction between Budget and Famine Relief works is abolished, transfers and reappropriations appear unnecessary during the continuance of the famine, but, not only the normal share of the reserve grants for minor works and repairs, should be transferred to the said Districts, but also such savings as may be anticipated in non-famine ^{districts} works by the suspension of ordinary works, which it is not absolutely necessary should be proceeded with.

The sum of Rs 1500 sanctioned in Government Order No 304 dated 7th September 1877 has not been taken into account by the District Engineer in his application, that amount should have been deducted from Rs 4000 now applied for, and the balance of Rs 2500 may be sanctioned by the Local Government from their Reserve under Ordinary Agricultural Original Works.

2. As regards the increase of Rs 10,000 required under Ordinary Agricultural Repairs Irrigation this Office is not in a position to suggest a source from which a transfer can be made, as there are not yet any means of finding what savings will be available. The Chief Engineer for Irrigation will probably be able to suggest a transfer if necessary.

The sum of Rs 1000 sanctioned in Government Order No 304 dated 7th September 1877 has not been taken into account by the District Engineer in his application that amount should therefore be deducted from Rs 4,500 now applied for and the balance of Rs 3,500 may be sanctioned by the Local Government from their Reserve under ordinary Agricultural Original Works.

2. As regards the means of Rs 10,000 required under Ordinary Agricultural Repairs Irrigation this Office is not in a position to suggest a source from which a transfer can be made as there are not yet any means of finding what savings will be available. Pay to Government

At the close of last month there remained but 17,000 Rupees under the head ordinary repairs & cultural repairs and there was Rupees 5,000 worth of work finished but unpaid. At the end of the present month there would probably have remained but Rs 2,000 had work not been stopped. The sum of Rs 10,000 can without doubt be usefully expended within the year.

Our minor new works of the grant of Rs 11,000, Rs 4,000 remained at the close of last month. Many works are unpaid and many sanctioned works in the Northern Division cannot be commenced. The sum of Rs 4,000 now applied for is absolutely necessary. A reply by telegraph is requested to admit of appropriate being made this month to works of both these classes.
