PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, 7TH JUNE 1877, No. 201 W.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council considers that in the rare cases in which elephants are kept up merely for conveyance of baggage, such elephants should ordinarily be obtained from the Commissariat Department through the Military Department. If there are any departments immediately under the Government of India which keep elephants for conveyance of baggage, they should be retained only upon the responsibility of the Military Department, which is best able, through the Commissariat Department, to judge whether it is in any case good economy to keep such elephants. Failing this check, a full report, justificatory of the measure, must be obtained and considered in each case by the Administrative Department before it is submitted to the Financial Department for final orders.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be forwarded for information to the several Departments of the Government of India, and to the several Local Governments and Administrations.
