SIR,

Referring to the telegram in the Department of Finance and Commerce, repeated in the margin, the Governor General in Council has again had under consideration the effect of Resolution in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2079, dated 31st July 1879, in respect of officers who are not paid from general revenues, and His Excellency in Council is pleased to issue the following in supersession of all previous orders.

Telegram—From Department of Finance,

To—All Local Governments and Administrations.

Till further orders do not allow retirement under July Resolution of any Public Works Officers not drawing pay from General Revenues: the Resolution was not meant to apply to them at all, as their retirement saves nothing to the Imperial Treasury.

2. The object of the special concessions made in that Resolution was the reduction of superfluous officers whose allowances were a burden to the public Treasury. It was not intended to impose on the public revenues any special charges for the personal benefit of officers whose retirement does not benefit the public Treasury in the manner designed.

3. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to rule that all officers serving under municipalities or otherwise whose salaries are not a direct charge on the general revenues, and whose resignations have been accepted, under previous orders of the Government of India, shall be allowed the benefits of the Resolution to the following extent, that is to say, they may retire on the pension allowed by the Resolution; but the payment of the pension will not commence till they have finally abandoned all public employ in India, whether under Native States, Municipalities or Guaranteed Railways or other public bodies connected with Government. The gratuity under paragraph 5, section II, clause (5) of the Resolution will also be payable on their final retirement from public employ, provided that, if an officer dies before his pension becomes payable, the gratuity lapses. Officers so employed have no claim to the gratuity under clause (6). All such officers should be at once informed of these terms, and if they are not satisfied with them, they may have the option of cancelling their resignations.

4. In the cases of officers so employed whose resignations have not been accepted, the Government of India will require it to be clearly shown what benefit accrues to the public revenues by their resignations under the Resolution, and no officer will be allowed to retire unless it be clear that the saving to the public Treasury by his retirement will exceed the cost of the special concessions which he would enjoy under the Resolution.

5. The same principle should be applied in respect to all resignations accepted under the Resolution hereafter, i.e., no resignation should be accepted which does not fulfil the main object of the Resolution by bringing relief to the public Treasury.
