I have accepted
this in faith, and
hope the position
is strictly moral & unimpeachable?

Quite so I think

D

under the S.E. IV, like the other Russian buildings.

It is possible that the transfer was never ^{actually} made, but in that case the S.E. III had merely to forward the papers to the S.E. IV.

He should have reported the action taken, whatever it was.

I was doubtful about
to send the order
to at the time, &
asked W, who considered
it best to send it
to the S.E. III.

The Est. of two
retiring rooms on the terrace of the North

Public Works Office
at Chapank amounts
to Rs. 880 - The
Est. has been read
& found correct.

I invite attention to
fact that up to date
no retiring room of
any sort has as yet
been provided in the Chapank. Permanent
offices for the gazetted
officers.

Major C. Gordon suggested that a small building
should be added
alongside his new stan-dard which has just been provided.

The site seems a suitable one.

In consequence of the change of duty accommodation
the kind there must be occasions when officers are compelled to stay away from office, although in it otherwise they would be able to attend.
Accommodation of the kind
is indispensable.

L. W.

It is of course
impossible to do
an instant provision
retiring accommodation
in an office of this kind and I cannot understand how the
wants in this respect
were not thought of
earlier.

You can give immediate order for any suitable
temporary construction
and order a proper
design for the permanent building. There is no mean partitioning off
vacant space
in the building.

The absence of such a room is very
inconvenient.

The Chief Engineer
The Public Works Department.

I always thought
a retiring room was to be built in the place
in the Smith section,
but it has not been done,
and it is certainly very much required.

In consequence of no
such accommodation being provided I have had frequently to go home during office hours.

W. J. L.

The want of such a room has been much felt. &
has caused great
discomfort & inconvenience.
