1 Report.

The present Straw and Hay Sheds are situated in a walled enclosure on Government land. There are 4 in number. Constructed of Poles with thatched roofs of bamboo rafters and reapers which frequently require repair at a large outlay in consequence of the damage they sustained by wind and white ants.

It is proposed therefore to make these sheds permanent structures by allowing a basement 1 foot high above the level of forage yard, with tiled roofs consisting of teak wood beams and Palmyrah rafters all round
