READ—the following G.O., dated 15th June 1882, No. 2925, Military.

Read—the following letter from Lieutenant-Colonel J. EWING, Officiating Quartermaster-General, to the Secretary to Government, Military Department, dated Ootacamund, 2nd June 1882, No. 354:—

With reference to Proceedings of the Madras Government, Nos. 1369, dated 12th May 1870, and 1736 of 28th May 1872, on the subject of coach and stable accommodation in Fort St. George, I have the honor, by order of the Commander-in-Chief, to whom the papers have been submitted, to forward letter No. G/136, dated 19th May 1882 (with two enclosures*), from the Officer Commanding Centre District, who urges on sanitary grounds that steps be taken to have all stabling removed from the Fort to some site outside of it, and I am to state that His Excellency recommends that all officers, clerks, &c., who have their offices in the Fort, should be required to send their horses home or outside the Fort gates during the time they are at office.

2. The horses belonging to the officers living in the Fort will not matter much, as they are few in number.

ENCLOSURES.

From Brigadier-General R. C. STEWART, Commanding Centre District, to the Quartermaster-General, dated Fort St. George, 19th May 1882, No. G/136.

It being reported to me that the quarters in North Gate Street, Fort St. George, occupied by the individuals named in the margin, were constantly complained of owing to the effluvia arising from drains and stabling, I directed the assemblage of a Medical Committee to examine and report upon these quarters.

2. A copy of the report is attached, by which it will be seen that amongst other recommendations the Committee have dwelt upon the presence of the stables in Bandicoot Alley (which is close in rear of the North Gate Street quarters) as being objectionable, and have recommended the removal of certain stalls to some other site. The Superintending Engineer, Fifth Circle, has recommended that the Fort Ball Court be converted into 10 stalls and the stables of the Essex Regiment be extended for 4 stalls more to the northward; this I hardly consider would be to the benefit of the soldiers in barracks, as the Alley is very close to the barracks. I therefore write urging that some steps may be taken allowing me to select a site outside Fort St. George on which stabling can be erected, not only for the horses lodged in Bandicoot Alley, but for the horses of all residents and departmental and regimental officers who may now be allotted stabling in the Fort.

PROCEEDINGS of a Special Medical Board assembled at Fort St. George, Madras, on the 24th April 1882, by order of Brigadier-General R. C. STEWART, C.B., for the purpose of reporting upon certain quarters in North Gate Street, at present occupied by the Quartermaster, Essex Regiment, Commissariat Sergeant, Garrison Quartermaster Sergeant, and Sergeants' Mess, Essex Regiment.

The Board having assembled pursuant to order, proceed to examine the buildings in North Gate Street, Fort St. George, and are of opinion—

(1.) That the basement of the Garrison Quartermaster Sergeant's quarters having been for some time used as stables, the ground has become saturated with organic impurities, and requires renewal to the depth of 2 or 3 feet. The ventilation of the basement of these quarters is defective, being impeded by some old walls; these should be removed if practicable.

The entire basement of these quarters requires thorough cleansing and lime-washing.

(2.) Some drains in the basement of the buildings are reported to smell offensively; if they communicate with the large drain, it is recommended that they be trapped.

(3.) The pipe from the scullery of the Sergeants' Mess-house smells offensively and should be rectified, but constant flushing should remove this nuisance.

(4.) The quarters of some of the Non-Commissioned Officers in this block are very much overcrowded; the Board therefore recommend that some of the families be removed elsewhere, and the cubic space and superficial area allotted to the remaining families increased.

(5.) The proximity of these quarters to the stables in Bandicoot Alley is very objectionable, especially in the case of the quarters of the Quartermaster of the Essex Regiment.

The Board therefore recommend that the stalls immediately beneath the windows of this Officer's sleeping apartment be removed, and the number of horses occupying stalls be reduced.

(6.) The Board consider the sanitary condition of the Hindoo eating-house adjoining the Quartermaster's quarters very bad, and would recommend its removal elsewhere.
