SIR,

Enclosures.

I have the honour to bring to your notice, that it would be a great boon to the Superintending Engineer of this Circle, if the Government could be persuaded on to sanction a House (with Office attached) being built at this station. At first sight, such a demand on my part, might appear uncalled for but when the fact of there being no House available for the Superintending Engineer is made known, perhaps the Government might see the necessity for making requisite House provision for their Officers.

2. I understand that in the case of the Civil Officers, when called for, such a step as the purchase of a good and commodious House is made by the Civil Department or a suitable Building is erected at the Government expense.

3. At the present time, I am unable to find a House to rent in Bellary, and were it not for the kindness of a friend, I should have to reside in a Tent with my family.

4. I may here remark that the existing Superintending Engineer's Office is a most unsuitable Building and situated in a noisy, dirty part of the Town for which building Government have to pay Rs 600 per annum, I trust therefore that you will endeavour to obtain the sanction of an appropriate Building ^{being erected} together with office accommodation attached, for which I am ready to submit an Estimate with Plans.

I have the honour to be

Sir

Your most obedt servant.

It may perhaps not seem worth while
reopening this question,
but the fact that Major Clarke, who has evidently not seen the previous correspondence, takes the same view as I did,
is evidence that something is wanted —

With order

December 1881, because more was possible; the existing E.C. office is in the Port where ^{the erection of} an additional buildings is undesirable,

and the office itself
is so bad that no
E.C. uses it -

The existing (rented)
S.C. office is all that Major Clarke desires,
but no other building
is available -
