Order—dated 3rd April 1883, No. 1024 W., Public Works.

Communicated to Superintending Engineer, Sixth Circle.

2. Orders on the estimate will be passed, on receipt of a final decision from the Judicial Department, on the question whether the District Court shall contain the sole record-room of the Zillah.

3. The disposal of the Military buildings at Palamcottah, in accordance with G.O., No. 2140 W., dated 19th August 1882, may now be proceeded with.

From T. WEIR, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Madras, Appellate Side, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 6th April 1883, No. 1099.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter forwarding the Order of Government, dated 15th March 1883, No. 766, Judicial, and I am to express the satisfaction of the High Court that, in the view of the Chief Engineer, the requirements of the public who resort to the Courts at Kokarakulam can be met without incurring any very large expenditure.

2. With advertence to the observation in the final paragraph of the Order of Government that "it is at present under consideration whether the District Court shall not contain the sole record-room of the Zillah," I am to state that the High Court is not in possession of any information on this subject, and I am to request that Government will be good enough to communicate to the Court the papers connected therewith.

3. To ensure the responsibility of officers for the safe custody of records in pending cases or called for as evidence, it is necessary that each Court should have its own record-room and Recordkeeper.

Order—dated 18th May 1883, No. 1329, Judicial.

The Government understand that ever since the middle of 1880 the records in the "disposed of" cases of the two Subordinate Courts at Madura have been placed in the District Court, and the respective Recordkeepers have been working in the District Court. This arrangement has, it is believed, greatly facilitated the central copying system inaugurated in that district soon after the transfer of the Sub-Court records to the District Court.

2. As the central copying system is to be introduced throughout the Presidency, the record arrangement obtaining at Madura may be brought into operation elsewhere also.

3. The records in current cases remain with the clerks in charge of current work. No special provision seems to be needed on their account.

4. The matter will be referred for the consideration of the Judicial Reorganization Committee.
