READ—the following letter from Lieutenant-Colonel P. MONTGOMERIE, R.E., Superintending Engineer, Tank Division, to the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, dated Chepauk, 30th April 1883, No. 58:—

In continuation of my letter, No. 53, dated 27th April 1883, I have the honor to submit a list of my office establishment so far as has been entertained up to date, and to request you will be so good as to have Messrs. Fonceca and Gomes exempted from passing the tests for draftsmen and clerks respectively.

2. Mr. Fonceca, who is debarred by age as well as being an unpassed man, was some time ago temporarily employed in the drawing office of the Consulting Architect to Government, and as he is an intelligent and neat draftsman, I have taken him on in anticipation of your having him exempted from passing the prescribed test for draftsmen.

3. The latter, Mr. Gomes, who is for the same reasons debarred, was for a considerable time employed in the office of the Chief Engineer and Manager of the late Madras Irrigation and Canal Company, and he was thrown out of employ by the reduction of the staff after the canal was purchased by Government. I have entertained him in anticipation of your having him exempted from passing the test for clerks.

4. Mr. Baldrey, who is the subordinate head of my office, has not passed the Code examination, but in every other respect he is eligible for the appointment he is holding, and I beg therefore that he may be exempted from passing the Code test in order to enable the Examiner to audit his salary without any remarks. He has a sufficient knowledge of the Code to conduct the duties of the appointment he is at present holding, and he is now busily engaged assisting me in organizing the new Tank Division offices, &c.

5. With the exception of Mr. Baldrey's case, the others will only be exempted while serving in the Tank Division offices. Similar concessions have been allowed to the temporary establishment engaged in the survey operations of the Bellary State Railway—vide G.O., No. 304 R., dated 5th April 1883.

No. 35 E.W.

Forwarded to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department.

2. The restriction regarding age for admission into Government service does not apply to the members of the temporary establishment, as their services do not count for pension.

3. It is recommended that the Examiner of Public Works Accounts may be authorised to pass the pay of Messrs. W. Fonceca and W. T. Gomes, without reference to the examination rules, while employed in the office of the Superintending Engineer in charge of the Tank Divisions.

4. It is also recommended that the Examiner of Public Works Accounts may be authorised to pass Mr. Baldrey's pay, during his employment on the temporary establishment, without reference to the Public Works Code Examination, which he should, however, pass before the expiry of his temporary service.

Ootacamund,
16th May 1883.

Ag. Chief Engineer for Irrigation.
