ENCLOSURE.

Extract paragraphs 1 and 2 of a letter from the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, to the Joint Auditor and Examiner of Accounts, Southern Mahratta Railway, No. 294 E., dated 21st May 1883.

In reply to your letter, No. 961 E., dated 26th February 1883, I have the honor to state that Section 177, Civil Pension Code, provides that if any portion of a pension is drawn by a pensioned officer on re-employment, that portion of his pension plus his pay on re-employment shall not exceed the pay he drew on retirement; that is to say, his pension can only be drawn in order to make up his present aggregate emoluments to what he drew at the time of his retirement. If his new pay is equal to his old, he will draw no pension; but there is no limit to the pay that he may draw on re-employment apart from pension, for it is manifest that it was not intended to place a pensioner on re-employment in a worse position than a non-pensioner.

2. As Mr. * * * has capitalised his pension, he should, under the special provisions of Section 177 (A), Civil Pension Code, pay to Government an amount equal to the pension thus capitalised; and if he has not refunded his special gratuity, the amount thus payable to Government on account of pension should be increased by an amount equal to 5 per cent. per annum on his special gratuity. On payment of these amounts direct to Government, or on deduction of these amounts from his pay bills, the amounts deducted being credited to Government, there is no restriction, so far as the Government is concerned, on the amount of pay he may draw. It will perhaps be found most convenient to realise the sums to be paid by Mr. * * * by deduction from his pay, and adjust them by credit to the Civil Department in your exchange account.

PARA. 1. In reply to your letter No. 931E., dated 26th February 1883, I have the honor to state that section 177, Civil Pension Code, provides that if any portion of a pension is drawn by a pensioned officer on re-employment, that portion of his pension plus his pay on re-employment shall not exceed the pay he drew on retirement; that is to say, his pension can only be drawn in order to make up his present aggregate emoluments to what he drew at the time of his retirement. 2. As Mr. * * has capitalised his pension, he should under the special provisions of section 177(A), Civil Pension Code, pay to Government an amount equal to the pension thus capitalised; and if he has not refunded his special gratuity, the amount thus payable to Government on account of pension should be increased by an amount equal to 5 per cent. per annum on his special gratuity. On payment of these amounts direct to Government, or on deduction of these amounts from his pay bills, the amounts deducted being credited to Government, there is no restriction, so far as the Government is concerned, on the amount of pay he may draw. It will perhaps be found most convenient to realise the sums to be paid by Mr. * * by deduction from his pay, and adjust them by credit to the Civil Department in your exchange account.
