Dr. W.

Mr. Pope was ordered up to duty last year
under instructions that his stay would not
exceed a fortnight,
but he was detained
there for two months
altogether, & for that period he drew in all Rs 345 in the shape
of duty <sup>& travelling</sup> allowances.

When Draftsman Manicka Moodie was ordered to duty in 1878, he remained there for about a month, &
drew as extra & travelling allowances Rs 132-9-10
under the duty rules
then in force.

C.
26/7

I am no sufficient reason to warrant my asking 10 to 12 years his decision - more especially as bona-fide expenses are not what I would admit as such.

To Manicka Moodie for information
H.C. The order should now be 27/7.

question, on his being ordered up on special
duty last year -

What makes the present case rather a hard one is that until the Gov. raised
the question, no one
seemed to doubt that the man would be paid
allowance in accordance with Army Scale. His name was included by the Army office in their tour allowance list for June & he has actually drawn all that he was put down for.

Under the present
order he will be retrenched Rs 80-4-0, & the repayment of the amount
will come heavily on him.

What were the periods for which petitions & Mr. P. were ordered up on special duty.
It seems to me simply a case for ordinary travel allowance, all men are liable to such calls & there is nothing special about them. CL 10/7

With reference to your pencil note on the

for your orders an appeal which Draftsman Manicka Moody has just sent in -

He started for Holacammund under the impression that he would be granted
allowances under the daily rules, & he states that he incurred expenditure accordingly.
He based his belief
on the fact that he was granted allowances
according to the daily
scale, when he was ordered up on special
duty on a previous occasion - also that Mr. Pope, late head
Draftsman in this office,

The Draftsman
Submits an Account
amounting to Rs 145-3-4.
which includes items
to the extent of Rs 86-12-which are not really
travelling expenses.
although they were
incident to his journey. Deducting
these, the balance
