Despatch from the Right Honorable the EARL OF KIMBERLEY, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, to His Excellency the Most Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council, dated India Office, London, 12th July 1883, No. 106 (Statistics and Commerce).

In reply to your letter, No. 3 (Forests), 15th May last, explaining why certain publications have been supplied direct to the British Museum, and with reference to the despatches marginally noted, I shall be glad if, in order to avoid sending twice to the same place and to secure uniformity of practice, you will cause instructions to be issued that this office may be furnished with lists of distribution of all official publications supplied by your Government and the Local Governments to institutions in this country and in Europe generally, and if it is preferred to send the books themselves through this office, they should be sent ready addressed to the persons or institutions for whom they are designed. In some cases at present books are distributed direct by departmental officers: this course is not a convenient one, and books should in all cases be forwarded from India through the several Governments.
