READ—the following letter from P. V. LUKE, Esq., Chief Superintendent, Government Telegraphs, Madras Division, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Madras, 26th January 1883, No. 6234 :—

Referring to G.O., dated 28th August 1882, No. 2204 W., sanctioning the construction of a line of telegraph from Coonoor to Kótagiri, I have the honor to report that there is a difficulty in finding either suitable accommodation for a Telegraph Office or a person to train as a non-departmental signaller at Kótagiri.

2. With your concurrence I propose to work the office experimentally as a postal telephone one. I have been in communication with the Postmaster-General, and he has no objection to this arrangement being tried.

3. If it is found, after trial, that the telephone is not satisfactory, I shall be prepared to work the office by means of a departmental signaller on the necessary free accommodation being provided in accordance with the terms of the guarantee.
