GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Civil Works.

READ—the following letter from G. HAMNETT, Esq., Inspector-General of Registration, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, 17th May 1884, T. No. 1692:—

On my inspection of the registrar's office at Trichinopoly, on the 2nd August 1883, I remarked—

“The accommodation is not sufficient. There must be a separate record-room.”

2. The registrar suggested that the only way of extending the accommodation was to ask the Collector to give over the room, measuring 29' x 18', occupied by the taluk sheristadar. The Collector considered this to be impossible, but thought that “the best plan would be to utilise the empty court-yard that lies between the police station and the Mussalman school, after making necessary improvements.”

3. A sketch plan of the court-yard is enclosed.

4. As no funds were available I deferred taking action in the matter.

5. But the registrar has brought up the question again, and says that his present office was originally intended for the sub-registrar, but that since the amalgamation of the offices of the registrar and sub-registrar, in 1875, the accommodation has been found to be insufficient.

6. The “court-yard” to which the Collector refers appears, from the registrar's description, to be “a spacious, fire-proof building enclosed by thick high walls on all sides, with open space in front and in rear, and will amply meet the requirements of the increasing records of the department. The building, which is now out of repair, can be put in good order at half, at the utmost, of the cost of an entirely new building.”

7. I have the honor, therefore, to request that you will be pleased to obtain the sanction of the Government to an estimate being prepared by the Executive Engineer of the Trichinopoly division for converting the building alluded to into an office for the registrar of Trichinopoly.

No. 1197, Judicial.

Transferred to the Public Works Department with the request that the estimate referred to in paragraph 7 of the Inspector-General of Registration's letter may be prepared.

Coatacamund, 17th May 1884.

Sir,

On my inspection of the Regis-
-trars office at Trichinopoly on the 2nd
August 1883 I remarked:

"The accommodation is not sufficient. There must be a separate record-room."

2. The Registrar suggested that the only way of extending the accommo-dation was to ask the Collector to give over the room, measuring 29' x 18', occupied by the Taluk Sarishtadar. The Collector considered this to be impossible, but thought that the best plan would be to utilize the empty court-yard that lies between the police station and the Annasalmara school after making necessary improvements."

3. A Sketch plan of the Court yard is enclosed.

4. As no funds were available I deferred taking action in the matter.

5. But the Registrar has brought up the question again, and says that his present office was originally intended for the Sub Registrar, but that since the amalgamation of the offices of the Registrar and Sub Registrar, in 1875, the accommodation has been found to be insufficient.

6. The "Court yard" to which the Collector refers appears from the Registrar's description to be "a spacious fire-proof building enclosed by thick high walls on all sides with open space in front and in rear, and will amply meet the requirements of the increasing records of the department. The building which is now out of repair can be put in good order at half, at the utmost, of the cost of an entirely new building.
