READ—the following letter from Colonel T. E. TENNANT, Inspector-General of Jails, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, 16th June 1884, No. 186:—

The Superintendent of the Central Jail at Salem, Mr. Goodrich, brings to notice the want of sufficient accommodation for his family in the Superintendent's quarters, and he requests that certain additions may be made, which, after personal inspection of the house, I consider necessary.

2. The alterations and additions have been designed in communication with the Superintendent and the Engineer officers. The amount of estimate, including the erection of a porch, is Rs. 3,600, which sum, I have the honor to request, may receive the sanction of Government.

3. The following papers are forwarded:—

ORDER—dated 25th April 1884, No. 1054 W., Public Works.

The Inspector-General of Jails having called attention to the expediency of extending the employment of convict labor on the construction of jails, the Government desire that labor of this kind should be utilised whenever practicable.

2. In proceedings of the Government of India, in the Home Department (Judicial), No. 1873—80, dated 22nd December 1869,* it is stated that the first application of prison labor should, as a general rule, be in the service of the jail itself, and of other jails; and that the services of all prisoners must be given to the utmost extent to the State in this way, without charge. Applying this principle to Public Works, the services of convicts for jail works would be obtained without cost to the Public Works Department, and the estimates for works of that class would be correspondingly reduced.

3. It is not intended that arrangements already made for carrying out jail works by contract or otherwise should be cancelled, when inconvenience would thereby be caused; but in all cases where the employment of convict labor would be to the manifest advantage of the State, the services of prisoners should be availed of.

4. The Trichinopoly jail, for which a provision of Rs. 20,000 is made in the budget of 1884-85, and which has not yet been commenced, presents a favorable opportunity for trying convict labor on a large scale. The convicts would, perhaps, be best employed in digging foundations, carting bricks and lime, collecting sand, &c., and subsequently in aiding in the erection of the enclosure wall, and in any other work for which skilled-labor is not essential.

5. The arrangements for segregating the convicts, and otherwise maintaining discipline, can doubtless be efficiently managed by local officers acting in concert.

6. The special attention of Public Works officers is invited to the matter; and they will report how far these orders can conveniently be carried into effect as regards jail works entered in the budget of 1884-85.
