READ—the following letter from J. A. DAVIES, Esq., Acting Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Madras, Appellate side, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 11th January 1884, No. 103 :—

The District Judge of Bellary inspected the Court of the District Munsif of Narayandeverkeri in November last and submitted a report with the following remarks as to the state of the Court-house :—

“ The Court-house is a comfortable building, but very small. It requires badly a room in which to keep attached property, and it will be necessary to add another separate room for the Deputy Nazir under the system proposed to be inaugurated on 1st January 1884. In fact there are only three tiny rooms beside the Court-room. One of them is the Judge's private room, the centre one is the record-room, and in the other the Head Gumastah, who superintends the Process Department, sits with his assistant. Excepting the clerk in charge of the records, the rest of the establishment and the copyists sit round the Court-room, which must be very distracting when business is going on. It will therefore be absolutely necessary to build a room for the Deputy Nazir.”

The High Court requested the District Judge to submit his proposals for the enlargement of the Court-house, and he has now forwarded a plan and estimate for the same, amounting to Rs. 1,180, prepared and signed by the Superintending Engineer and countersigned by himself. I am directed to submit these for the approval and sanction of Government, and to request that an early allotment of funds may be granted for carrying out the work, it being urgent, and there being no budget provision for it.

Approved and transferred to the Financial Department for the necessary allotment.

To The Honorable E. F. Webster, Chief Secretary to Government

Sir,
The District Judge of Bellary inspected the Court of the District Munsif of Narayanadavarakeri in November last and submitted a report with the following remarks as to the state of the Court-house—
"The Court-house is a comfortable building but very small. It requires badly a room in which to keep attached property and it will be necessary to add another separate room for the Deputy Nazir.
Under the system proposed to be inaugurated on 1st January 1884.
In fact there are only three things rooms beside the Court room.

"One of them is the Judge's "private room, the centre one is "the record room and in the other
"the Head Munastah, who superintends
"the process Department, sits with "his assistant. Excepting the clerk "in charge of the records, the rest "of the Establishment and the "copyists sit round the Court "room which must be very distracting "when business is going on. It "will therefore be absolutely "necessary to build a room for "the Deputy Nazir."

The High Court requested the District Judge to submit his proposals for the enlargement of the Court-house, and he has now forwarded a plan and estimate for the same amounting to Rupees 1180-0-0 prepared and signed by the Superintending Engineer and countersigned by himself.
I am directed to submit these for
