The only ground on which the man could have been exempted previously must have been that he was incompetent capable of passing the examination if as he had the opportunity. He has now had the opportunity, and has failed. It would be difficult to make out another case for exemption. The reason assigned by the S.E. is one which the Govt. can scarcely recognize. While there are thousands of duly qualified men out of employ.

R.S. 14.2.84.

I quite agree. The man was first appointed in May 82 + has had lots of time to prepare for examination. Draft order accordingly for his papers W.S. approved
