

Note by the Chief Engineer for Irriga

N^o 50 E. W.

M. Appasawmy Row, the Head Draughtsman of this office was appointed to act as Superintendent of the Construction or Drawing branch during the absence of Mr C. J. A. Baldry on other duty on condition of his passing the examination in the P. W. Code and Procedure, prescribed for clerks but has not yet passed. He is well qualified to be the Head of the Construction Branch, and is conversant with the rulings of the code applicable to his work. He is intelligent and hard working, but the work devolving on him is so great that he has no time to study all the portions of the P. W. Code required for clerks. Among the persons who have passed the Clerk's examination in the P. W. Code, it it is impossible to get a competent man possessing the technical knowledge required for the appointment. It is therefore recommended that M. Appasamy Row may be specially exempted from passing the examination referred to, while he is employed as Superintendent of the Construction Branch of this office.
