READ—the following letter from A. B. SAMPSON, Esq., Under Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department (General), to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Works Department, dated Simla, 11th June 1885, No. 844 G. :—

In reply to your letter, No. 957 W., dated 22nd April last, I am directed to state that there is no objection to a local Government appointing temporary accountants, provided the establishment is within the number allowable by rule, as well as within budget limits.

2. I am to add that in the revised edition of volume I of the Public Works Code, accountants will be added to the classes of establishment mentioned in paragraph 88 of chapter I, which a Local Government may entertain within budget limits.

ORDER—dated 24th June 1885, No. 1469 W., Public Works.

Communicated to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with reference to G.O., No. 956 W., dated 22nd April 1885.

2. This disposes of the draft standing order expunging “accountants” from paragraph 192 of the Public Works Code, which was submitted with the Examiner’s No. 935, dated 19th March 1885.

A reference must be made to C regarding reasons for proposing to expunge "Accountants" from para 88 of our Code. This would mean that all accountants, whether required temporarily or not, are to be appointed to permanent establishment. Why should they be on a better footing than Engineers & others?

Cef.

Possibly C will say that acct.

Encs:—

This is a question regarding which it may be well to get a definite ruling from the Government of India, seeing that the practice seems to have been accepted by the Government of India as correct, and that propositions which have gone up for sanction have been modified.
Had they been sanctioned here as proposed to the Government of India, we might have had them upset and inconvenience caused.

2. Para. 192, Chapter I
of the Madras P.W. Code, includes accountants among the classes of establishment which the Local Government may sanction in order to meet demands for extra supervision; but in the corresponding para 88, Section III Chapter I of the Government of India P.W. Code, Accountants are not mentioned.

3. In practice, it has been usual to forward to the Government of India, for sanction, proposals for employing extra temporary accountants, but there appears to be no reason why such sanctions should not be accorded by the Local Government within the powers ^{prescribed} ~~authorized~~ by rule.
