Sir,

A proposition having been made to reprint Syndale's Hand-book of specifications in consequence of all the copies of the first edition having been disposed of by the Thomas & Collins & Co., I am directed to enquire the number of copies, if any, of the new edition the Government of Madras would be disposed to take for the use of the Public Works Dept.
The cost of reprinting the work it is understood will be heavy, viz: about 15 Rupees per copy for the first one hundred copies and Rupees 6 each for all subsequent copies.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most Obedt. Servant.

OFFICE NOTE.

To W

With reference to the account of note by S. A. W. I submit the book which is referred to.

I hardly think it would prove of much use to the Divisional Offices of this Presidency, & the work is expensive.

Cy.

I think we might undertake to take 20 copies at 5/- a copy.

Copies could then be sent to each Circle, and to some selected Divisions.

If more were afterwards required they could be obtained.

The Govt of India inquire whether the Madras Govt would be disposed to take for the use of the Madras P.W.
Dept. any copies of "Tyndall's Handbook of Specifications" which it is proposed to reprint, & mention that the cost would be Rs 18 per copy for the first hundred copies & Rs 5 each for subsequent copies.

In August 1879, two copies of the first edition of the work were obtained by this office, at a cost of Rs 20, but the books cannot be traced, & what has become of them cannot now be ascertained.
