PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

—the following papers:—

From Lieutenant-Colonel J. PENNYCUICK, R.E., Superintendent of Works, Tank Maintenance Scheme, to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, Ootacamund, 10th December 1884, No. 1034 T.—Through the Chief Engineer for Irrigation.

I have the honor to solicit consideration of the question of the grant of deputation allowance, under section 57, clause (b) (revised), paragraph V, of the Pay and Leave Allowance Code, to the officers and subordinates employed on special duty in connection with the Red Hills tank.

2. The individuals so employed hitherto have been—

Captain W. L. C. Baddeley, R.E., Executive Engineer, 4th grade,
Mr. J. W. Ellis, Sub-Engineer, 1st grade, and Honorary Assistant Engineer, Maurimootu Moodelliar, Supervisor, 1st grade (temporary),
Mr. C. W. Traish, Supervisor, 2nd grade (temporary).

3. All the above have been relieved of all other duty; but, nevertheless, the work in question does, in my opinion, involve a "decided increase both of work and responsibility," and it also involves a change of station.

4. In my own case, I have not been relieved of any portion of my ordinary duties, but may fairly say that the special duty in question involves a very serious increase both of work and responsibility.

No. 105 E.W.

Forwarded to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, for favorable consideration.

OOTACAMUND, 11th December 1884. (Signed) A. S. RUSSELL, for Chief Engineer for Irrigation.

Office note from the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, dated 10th January 1885, No. 730.

The duty on which the officers and subordinates have been employed is such as in the ordinary course they are liable to be called upon to undertake, and there is nothing in the transfer of establishment preliminary to the opening of a new temporary division, or on an emergency, to warrant the grant of deputation allowances.

Office note from the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, dated 23rd January 1885, No. 14.

Your office note, dated 16th January 1885, No. 105 D.

In G.O. No. 2014 W., dated 22nd November 1884, Lieutenant-Colonel J. Pennycuick, R.E., was ordered to take charge of the restoration work on the Red Hills tank, and was thus deputed to a special work (outside his regular duties) which involved both extra work and change of station. It is therefore hoped that Government will exercise the discretion allowed them in clause (V) of section 57 of the Acting Allowance Code, and will sanction the deputation allowance to Colonel Pennycuick as a special case.

2. In the case of the other officers and subordinates for whom deputation allowance was applied for, the Examiner's contention appears to be correct, as it is stated that they were relieved of all other duties except those connected with the Red Hills tank restoration.

Orders—dated 7th February 1885, No. 295 W., Public Works.

His Excellency the Governor in Council does not consider that the case of the officers and subordinates for whom deputation allowance is applied for by Lieutenant-Colonel Pennycuick, comes under section 57, clause (f) (V) of the Acting Allowance Code, as they were relieved of all duties except those connected with the Red Hills tank restoration, where their work is such as would fall to them in ordinary course.

2. The case of Lieutenant-Colonel Pennycuick himself seems to fall within the provisions of the rule, he having been deputed to a special work, outside his regular duties, which involved both extra work and change of station. As, however, it is anticipated that the duty in question will last more than six months, the sanction of the Government of India to the admissible of deputation allowance to Lieutenant-Colonel Pennycuick is necessary under the second portion of clause (V) quoted above. Such sanction will accordingly be applied for.

No. 900, dated the 9th May 1884.

RESOLUTION—by Department of Finance and Commerce.

READ the undermentioned papers regarding the powers of the Government of India and of Local Governments in sanctioning deputations and temporary appointments and regarding the rates of deputation allowance:—

Proceedings in this Department (Pay and Allowances) for November 1877, Nos. 28-34, ruling that the deputation allowance of an Uncovenanted Officer deputed to a distance for a long period on special duty should not exceed Rs. 3 a day with travelling allowance.

Proceedings in this Department for the month of June 1878 (Pay and Allowances), Nos. 221-223, empowering Local Governments and the Agents to the Governor-General for Rajputana and Central India to grant a deputation allowance not exceeding Rs. 10 a day for periods of absence from their stations, besides actual travelling expenses to officers deputed to attend on Native Chiefs or other distinguished personages on journeys.

Proceedings for September 1878 (Expenditure), Nos. 423-424, containing Resolution No. 2679, dated 31st August 1878, in the last paragraph of which it was said that, except in cases provided for by special orders, the sanction of the Government of India should be obtained to the grant of remuneration in addition to the fixed pay of any public officer.

Proceedings (Pay and Allowances) for January 1879, Nos. 16-17, empowering Local Governments to sanction a deputation allowance of one fifth of salary up to a maximum of Rs. 10 a day for the entire period of absence from head-quarters on the duty of serving on a commission of special or quiry in addition to actual travelling expenses.

Proceedings (Expenditure) for April 1879, Nos. 137-138, empowering Local Governments to depute officers on temporary duties and to entertain temporary establishments in any Department, the cost of which is Provincial, without reference to the Government of India, provided the Budget grant is not exceeded.

Proceedings (Expenditure) for August 1879, Nos. 324-325, in which it was explained that the permission to sanction deputations and temporary appointments given by the orders of April 1879 holds good only where the salary is not increased over Rs. 500, and if temporary appointments do not last more than six months.

Proceedings (Accounts and Finance) for April 1880, Nos. 309-314, in which it was decided that temporary appointments on more than Rs. 250 a month, which are not likely to be permanent, and the deputation of officers on any temporary duty with an increase to their pay raising it above Rs. 5,000 a year, do not require the sanction of the Secretary of State, and need not be reported.

Proceedings (Accounts and Finance) for November 1881, Nos. 1373-74, directing that temporary appointments on more than Rs. 250 a month, which may be sanctioned by the Government of India, should be reported for the confirmation of the Secretary of State in the annual annual statement of increases which is sent to the Secretary of State after the close of the year.

Proceedings (Account and Finance) for May 1882, No. 559.

RESOLUTION.—In supersession of the foregoing orders, the Governor General in Council is pleased to lay down the following rules :—

(i) An officer is said to be on deputation when he is detached on special temporary duty for the performance of which there is no permanently or temporarily sanctioned appointment. A temporary appointment is an appointment carrying a definite rate of pay and sanctioned for a limited time.

(ii) A temporary appointment, if the cost is Provincial, may be sanctioned by a Local Government without reference to the Government of India, provided the pay of the appointment does not exceed Rs. 3,000 a year. If the cost is Imperial, a temporary appointment requires the sanction of the Government of India, but if the pay of the appointment does not exceed Rs. 3,000 a year it will be sufficient to include it in the statement of fresh charges submitted to the Government of India, unless it should last for more than a year; in the latter case a special application must be made for the sanction of the Supreme Government.

(iii) Temporary appointments on more than Rs. 250 a month will be reported to Her Majesty's Secretary of State in the Annual Statement of Increases and Decreases of expenditure, or separately in each instance, according to the nature of the case.

(iv) An officer may be deputed on special duty by a Local Government without reference to the Government of India and without limit of time if the cost of the deputation is Provincial and if the remuneration granted to the officer is not at a higher rate than Rs. 3,000 a year. An officer may not be deputed on special duty by a Local Government if the cost is Imperial without the sanction of the Government of India.

(v) An officer, no matter what his salary, may be deputed on special duty by a Local Government for a period not exceeding six months, provided the cost of the deputation is Provincial, and he may be allowed by the Local Government to draw the pay or salary which, but for his deputation, he would have continued to receive either as substantive or officiating. If the duties involve a decided increase of work or responsibility in comparison with the duties of his regular appointment, or require a change of station, the Local Government may in addition allow the officer to draw a deputation allowance at a rate not exceeding one-fifth of salary, subject to a maximum limit of Rs. 10 a day.

If it is expected that the deputation should last for more than six months, or if it does actually last for more than six months, a special application for the sanction of the Government of India must be made.

Deputation allowances are granted independently of any travelling allowance which may be admissible.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, the several Local Governments, and the Comptroller-General and the several Accountants-General and Comptrollers.

Ordered also, that the rules above sanctioned be inserted in the Pay and Acting Allowance Code in lieu of Section 57 (1).

It appears to me that under Clause (V) of the Resolution, Capt. Romilly can claim a deputation allowance when on duty at Bhurpa-tara, & can be paid at the Rate not exceeding $\frac{1}{5}^{th}$ of salary.

The duties will not perhaps involve a decided increase of work or responsibility, but will require a change of station, & the Resolution contemplates the grant of deputation allowance.

If you think it right that the Resolution should be extended in favour of Capt. Romilly, the necessary order must be issued by the Govt. of India, as the Commissioner has no power to sanction any increase of pay or allowance.

It does not seem to me that Captain Romilly's case falls within the provisions of Clause (V) of Judicial Resolution dated 9.5.84 No. 900. He daily visits Bhurpatara which has been detached Command & should be termed "Special duty" under that Resolution. It does not Madras, June 25 1884.

OFFICE NOTE No. 220

To

W.

Your O.M. No. 1125 D. dated 23rd June 1884.

Your reference affects the last sentence of Clause (V) of the Resolution principally. In my opinion, the fact that the deputation of an Officer "requires a change of station" is not sufficient, of itself, to entitle him to any deputation allowance. I consider that the period for which the Deputation may last has much to do with the question of his getting any extra allowance, for it is self evident that a deputation of 6 weeks duration would inconvenience an Officer much more than a deputation of 5 or 6 months would do.

Take, for instance, cases that have recently occurred of the deputation of Officers:-

KEEP WITH Genl. No.

dated 18

Mr. Walsh, to take over the Madras Irrigation Canal Company's Works, nearly 2 months, would have come under the clause and got allowances.

Col. Mullins, to Bangalore Water Scheme under 5 months, would not have come under the clause, for he had just returned from furlough, and it was no inconvenience to him to settle at Bangalore rather than at Madras.

Col. Mullins, to Hyderabad, would have come under the clause - a month's job.

Mr. Nordmann to Vizagapatam Railway reconnoissance, some 7 months would not have come under the clause.

Mr. Vincent.
Mr. Gregson, } to late Commission at Simla, would have come under the clause.

Major Morant, to Calcutta Exhibition would not come under the Resolution as his duty was not "special".

Officers of the P.W. Department, deputed on Engineering or Professional duties, could not, I consider, claim on the ground of the duties involving a decided increase of work or responsibility in comparison with the duties of their regular appointments- and in such deputation the only consideration would be the "change of station", combined, in my opinion, with attendant circumstances of time, inconvenience etc. Each case must I think be taken on its merits.

Please favour me with your opinion as to whether the case of an Officer deputed from one of our Project Divisions to another part of the Presidency for a few months to get up plans and estimates for a project not belonging to his Division would fall under Clause V of the Govt of India Resolution, communicated with G.O.NO. I492 W. of 10th. June 1884.

D.W. 24.6.84

To W.

As regards your note of the 19th on Capt Romilly's concluding sentence on Sport as typical case of C for his opinion, I must forward his letter on the subject.

C seems off to argue that such cases must be taken on its merits. That is evident, inasmuch as it is optional with for C to grant or withhold the deputation allowance. The fund of course includes the special duty entrusted to the Forest assistant involving a detailed increase of work, or requires a change of station. As regards Capt Romilly, the more the fear from it is certainly such as may fall to any officer of the Dept at any time & involves the increase of work, but in this instance it does necessitate a change of station for a time only, & Romilly entitled, I think, to remuneration and extra expense.

Under clause (i) an officer in a deputation when detached on special temporary duty, how the duty in connection with Irrigation entirely is not in character special in any way to an Inspector in the Dept, but it is special to the Punjab Inspector of the B project Division, and that officer is certainly detached for a time from his permanent post or appointment.

I do not think it is the sanction the grant of a conveyance

E.I. to inform the question of deputation allowance was referred back, concurred with the Examiner that deputation allowance is not admissible to the officer a subordinate employed on Red Hills Tank, but specifically Lt. Ramsay Cole, who is entitled to the grant.

E.I. hopes that for the future with a view to discretion allowed Clause 4 A.R. Code to sanction the allowance, M.R.

The case seems to me a delicate one for recommendation for the heavy additional work falling on Lt. Ramsay Cole is most desirable, the question might possibly be solved by creating a temporary appointment of Supdt of works for the Red Hills Tank Division, & endowing the nomination under the clause for "Casual Appointments". But this again would necessitate forming up to for Lt of Sudder, who, whether the grant of a deputation allowance or of an additional appointment comes expectation, are, I fear, likely to look at the question from a different point of view.

If for the sanction of this sum and a deputation allowance within the Code limits, the Examiner must probably with refer the matter to the Govt of India, Pub. D.

The accompanying memorial from Lt Col: Pennycuick forwarded by E.E. for favorable consideration, has somewhat difficult subject with. Lt Col: Pennycuick recommends Capt Bradley, Asst Executive Engineer Rec's Supervising Inspector Mr. Sutherland Walsh, for deputation allowance, while employed on the Red Hills Tank.

Specimen entries from diary & account the grant, the duties being such as they can reasonably claim to.

With the exception of Capt Bradley's case, such he was at Red Hills for only a few days & his case hardly upon it specially dealt with, I confess it is difficult to get over the view that the work at Red Hills is such as might in ordinary course, fall to the lot of any subordinate.

Mr Ellis was subdivisional officer of Chingleput & in charge of the subdivision including. The work connected with the restoration no doubt formed not exceptionally severe, but his having to take it in hand hardly, in my opinion, comes under the meaning of deputation for which special allowances are admissible.

Mr Sutherland Walsh was a temporary Supervisor on same subdivision, and it would naturally fall to him to take part in the same work.

Mr Walsh need not to remain long as he was only there for a day or two.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that the work falling on Mr Ellis & Mr Sutherland is abnormally arduous, and they are entitled to some consideration on that account. Without thinking that the grant of these

SIR,

I have the honour to draw consideration of the question of the grant of deputation allowance
under section 57 Clause (b) Chapter IV of the Pay and allowance allowance Code to the Officers Subordinate employed on special duty in connection with the Road Hills Tanks.

All the above have been relieved of all duty but nevertheless the work in question does in my opinion involve a directed increase both of work and responsibility and it also involves a change of station.
In my own case and those

Your office note No. 105. D. dated 16th January 1885.

For G.O. 1st 2914. W. dated 22 September 1884. Lt. & Q. M. Pennycuick RE. was ordered to take charge of the restoration work of the Red Hills tank and was thus deputed for special work (outside his regular duties) which involved both extra work and change of station. It is therefore hoped that Government will exercise the discretion allowed them in clause b. V. of Section 57 of the Acting Allowance Code and will sanction the deputation allowance to Lt. Pennycuick as a special case.

HE the Governor in Council does not consider that the case of the officers and subordinates for whom deputation allowance is applied for by Lieut. Col. Sanigewith comes under section 59 clause (6)(IV) of the Acting Allowance Code as they were relieved of all duties except those connected with the Red Hills Tank restoration, where their work is such as would fall to them in ordinary course.

2. The case of Lieut. Col. Sanigewith stands for the period during which he may have charge of the Red Hills Sank restoration work on special duty on which he is employed, outside the ordinary duties of his post.

2. The circumstances of the case, with the opinions of the Examiner F.W. Accounts and of the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, are recorded
