READ—the following paper :—

From J. W. RUNDALL, Esq., Superintending Engineer, II Circle, to the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, dated Masulipatam, 13th February 1885, No. 894 N.L.

The Executive Engineer, Nellore, has forwarded to me, for sanction, under (44) Minor Original Works, an estimate, amounting to Rs. 1,320, for constructing a rest-house at Kávali.

2. The rest-house is primarily intended as a residence for the overseer and for his office and store. The overseer would pay rent varying from Rs. 6 to 7 according to his grade; so, supposing that Rs. 1,000 were the cost of the residence part of the building, the outlay would not be unproductive.

3. I am, however, in doubt whether the construction of a building of this kind is a legitimate charge against irrigation works, and do not wish, therefore, to sanction the estimate without your concurrence.

4. The overseer has hitherto lived in a shed constructed for temporary use during the famine, but this has fallen down and is not worth repair.

5. I therefore request the favor of your instructions.

No. 60 I.

Note by the Chief Engineer for Irrigation.

The Superintending Engineer, II Circle, has in his letter, No. 894 N.L., dated 13th February 1885, expressed a doubt whether the construction of a rest-house at Kávali, estimated to cost Rs. 1,320, and primarily intended as a residence for the overseer and for his office and store, can be sanctioned by him under Minor Original Works or not. The Government of India ruled, in their circular, No. 1, dated 10th February 1885, that in future no dwelling houses should be purchased or constructed by local Governments save under general or special orders of the Government of India. In the opinion of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts the rest-house may be sanctioned by Government under paragraph 1183 of the Public Works Code, which is based on paragraph 53, chapter VII, of the Government of India Code, 4th edition. The insertion of this paragraph in the code appears to have been intended for the purpose of securing provision in estimates for all incidental charges connected with the construction of a road, rather than as an authority under which the construction of residences for subordinates can be sanctioned. It is therefore suggested that the Government of India may be requested to state whether paragraph 53 of chapter VII of the 4th edition of their code is intended to convey general sanction for providing subordinates with residences when such are deemed to be absolutely necessary in the interests of the public service.

From,

The Superintending Engineer,
2nd Circle.

To,

The Chief Engineer,
For Irrigation.

Sir,

The Executive Engineer Nellore has forwarded to me for sanction under (44) Minor Original Works, an Estimate amounting to Rs. 1320 for constructing a Rest House at Kadavali.

The Rest House is primarily intended as a Residence for the Officer and for his office and store. The Officer would pay rent varying from Rs. 6 to 7 according to his grade; so, supposing that Rs. 1000 were the cost of the Residence part of the Building, the outlay would not be unproductive.

I am however in doubt whether the construction of a Building of this kind is a legitimate charge against Irrigation Works, and do not wish therefore to sanction the estimate without your concurrence.

4. The Overseer has hitherto lived in a shed constructed for temporary use during the famine, but this has fallen down and is not worth repair.

5. I therefore request the favor of your instructions.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

N^o 60- J.

The Superintending Engineer, 2nd Circle, has in his letter N^o 894. N.L. dated 13th Feb 1885 expressed a doubt whether the Construction of a rest house at Kavali estimated to cost Rs 1320, and primarily intended as a residence for the overseer and for his office and store, can be sanctioned by him under Minor Original Works or not. The Government of India ruled, in their Circular N^o 1.
dated 10th February 1885, that in future no dwelling houses should be purchased or constructed by Local Governments save under general or special orders of the Government of India. In the opinion of the Examiner of P. W. Accts, the rest house may be sanctioned by Government under para 1188 of the
P. W. Code, which is based on para 53
Chapter VII. of the Government of India Code, 4th Edition. The insertion of this para in the Code appears to have been intended for the purpose of securing

Securing provision in estimates for all incidental charges connected with the construction of a road, rather than as an authority under which the construction of residences for subordinates can be sanctioned. It is therefore suggested that the Government of India may be requested to state whether para 53 of Chapter III of the 4th Edition of their Code is intended to convey general sanction for providing subordinates with residences when such are deemed to be absolutely necessary in the interests of the Public Service.

Please read the accompanying letter from the Supp. Engineer, Second Circle, and kindly inform me whether, in your opinion, the Govt of India Circular No. 1 of 10th Feb/85 applies to this particular case. The house proposed to be constructed at Kavalu is not merely a residence, but is also intended to be an inspection bungalow.
