With advertence to these letters from and to the Commissary General, please say whether there would be any objection to this office bearing the pay of both Mr. Hereford and his tenens for the three days, 28th, 29th, & 30th May 1886, the clerk acting for Mr. Hereford having been unable to rejoin his substantive office until the 31st.

The acting clerk might perhaps be regarded as an extra temporary hand for the three days, or the matter might be adjusted under Code para 458.
