GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

19th July 1886, No. 4323.

Furlough.

Read the following papers:—

No. 254. From Adjutant-General; dated 28th May 1886, No. 1239-O (Leave).

No. 255. To the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department; dated 2nd June 1886, No. 3299.

No. 256. From Lt.-Col. E. COLLEN, Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to Lt.-Col. A. KENNEY-HERBERT, Secretary to the Government of Madras, Military Department; dated Simla, 1st July 1886, No. 681-A S.

In reply to your No. 3299, dated the 2nd June 1886, I am directed to say, for the information of the Governor in Council, that, under the decisions quoted in the margin, copy attached, General Officers of the Royal Artillery and Engineers (late Indian) residing in India, under the provisions of Article 494, Army Regulations, India, Vol. I, Part I, are eligible for privilege leave out of India on the Indian pay and allowances of their rank, and no distinction is made between a Major-General, Lieutenant-General, or General as the case may be.

Copy of a letter from Colonel H. K. BURNE, c.b., Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Controller of Military Accounts, Bengal; dated Simla, 9th September 1879, No. 459-S B (Pay and Allowances).

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 6006, dated the 12th August 1879, submitting the following queries by Major-General A. Bunny, c.b., Royal Artillery, unemployed:—

- (1) Whether if ordered to England on medical certificate he is entitled to a free passage home and out again, and
- (2) Whether he is entitled to privilege leave.

2. With reference thereto I am to remark that the cases of officers like Major-General Bunny are altogether special; but under ordinary circumstances they would, on promotion to the rank of Major-General, have to proceed to England, there being no place for an unemployed Major-General of Artillery in India. They can, however, remain in India for three years unemployed, as allowed by the Secretary of State in his message communicated with Military Department docket No. 213 of the 7th December 1878.

3. As an Officer of the British service going home on sick leave, the Government of India consider that Major-General Bunny should be allowed a free passage to England and back for himself only, drawing during the period of his absence only the English pay of his rank.

With regard to the second question, I am to observe that Major-General Bunny is entitled to three months' privilege leave out of India, drawing his Indian pay during such leave.

Copy of a letter from Colonel G. CHESNEY, Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Adjutant-General in India; dated 8th July 1881, No. 435-S A (Furlough—Privilege Leave).

In reply to your letter No. 1751-A (Leave—General), dated the 16th May 1881, I am desired to forward a copy of the correspondence noted in the margin, and to say that a General Officer of the Royal (late Bengal) Artillery employed and residing in India on Indian pay and allowances for three years is entitled to three months' privilege leave out of India on Indian pay and allowances under the rules applicable to other officers.

No. 257. ORDER THEREON, 19th July 1886, No. 4323.

The reply of the Government of India communicated to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and the Controller of Military Accounts.
